The 76th Formula 1 Grand Prix de Monaco 2018® saw My Yacht Group (MYG) celebrate its most significant event to date aboard three magnificent vessels: the 78m / 256ft explorer vessel M/Y Legend, 70m / 226ft sister megayacht M/Y Sherakhan, and 44m / 145ft superyacht M/Y Kijo, during a packed weekend schedule of dinners, parties, fundraising, and more.

In addition to hosting a slew of discerning HNW guests aboard its traditional 4-days of trackside My Yacht® activities, race viewing and hospitality, where F1 legend Eddie Jordan gave a pre-race talk to guests, it also launched BlockChain Royale. With a significant sponsorship deal paid 100% in Bitcoin, the first of its kind for Monaco or Formula 1, this new initiative within the nascent blockchain industry, welcomed over sixty fintech visionaries, VC leaders, philanthropists, authors and those at the forefront of the blockchain community.

Ahead of My Yacht's 13th annual Friday evening charity reception, key figures addressed an intimate gathering of both industry members, plus local and visiting HNW guests, all keen to learn more from those already shaping the future of crypto. Introduced by MYG Founder & CEO Nicholas Frankl, speakers included Michael Mathias, Founder & CEO of DasCoin; Bobby Lee, Co-founder of BTCC; Anthony Diiorio, Co-founder of Etherum; and Craig Sellars, Co-founder & CTO of Tether.
