

THE FAST & LUXURIOUS

From Ferrari to Fiat, F1 brings cars for everyone to Austin

Cars were certainly a key part of the Formula One weekend. All over town, dealerships and automakers were quick to show off their latest models. And so were owners.

As practice rounds began at Circuit of the Americas on Friday, high-end sports cars could be spotted at area hotels, parties and, of course, fan parking lots.

Classic and new models were enjoyed by those who attended the F1 Fan Fest on Saturday.

And before Sunday's race, the F1 drivers were paraded around the track in vintage cars.
